AFI-NGO Networking Day

Age Friendly Ireland was delighted to host a networking day on 28th September with NGOs who work with older people. This annual event was held online for the past two years but returned to being an in-person event this year.

Both NGOs and Age Friendly Programme Managers and Regional Managers presented on various aspects of their workloads on the themes of research, ageism, creativity, and encouraging participation and visibility of older people. We heard about many new and developing initiatives, such as new peer research on public spaces, the Community Time Machine, and ways we can challenge ageism in the media.

The Networking event was an excellent way to make connections between different organisations and understand how we can all support each other to deliver actions for the benefit of older people and fostering great partnerships across the local government NGO sectors

Visiting Beyond the Trees in Avondale – Towards an Age Friendly Tourist Destination

Operations Manager in Avondale, Katherine Webster, shared this beautiful photograph of her father Don who recently visited Beyond the Trees and enjoyed the slide!

She was happy to report that not only her father who is one month off turning 90 years of age, but also her mother, Jean, who is 84 years of age, both enjoyed the walk, tower AND slide that morning. They also borrowed one of wheelchairs on loan but in the end only used it to get back to the Seed Cafe afterwards.

Check out a little video of Don:

We were only too happy to share how wonderful this couple is and to show how you are never too old to have fun or use a slide 😊.

Beyond the Trees Avondale really is enjoyed by everyone of all ages.

Ulster Bank Withdrawal - Moving Bank - A Guide for Customers in Vulnerable Circumstances

The Banking & Payments Federation Ireland (BPF) have just launched Moving Bank? A Guide for Customers in Vulnerable Circumstances. This guide, which is attached, is intended to clearly convey to customers in need of additional support that support is available from the 5 banks when they are moving their bank account. The 5 banks (AIB, Bank of Ireland, KBC, Permanent TSB and Ulster Bank) have undertaken to deliver on the commitments to customers set out in the Guide and please be assured that Ulster Bank wants to ensure that we do so on a consistent basis.

We hope that the Guide will make it easier for customers and/or their representatives to understand that support can be provided, and we know that this clarity is something that Advocacy Groups have specifically asked for.

RESCHEDULED DATE: Ulster Bank Choose Move Close Stakeholder Briefing Event

Last week we invited representatives from an advocacy group for customers in vulnerable situations, to a briefing session on our Choose, Move, Close campaign, as the first customers, notified in April, approach the end of their six months' notice period in October.

We are getting in touch today to advise you that we are rescheduling this briefing session, which was due to take place on 27 September 2022, as it coincides with the announcement of Budget 2023, which we understand organisations may wish to focus on.

The rescheduled event will take place (via Zoom) on Tuesday 4 October 2022 at 11am.

If you, a colleague or a nominated representative would like to attend on this new date, please respond to Communications.ulsterbank@natwest.com by Friday 30 September 2022 with your name, company name and email address so that we can ensure your access via Zoom once you have registered. If you are unable to attend, we can ensure you are able to view a recording of the event afterwards and we are happy to take any questions you may have at that time, or indeed at any point.

Introduction to PPI for members of the public in University College Cork - 22nd October 2022

NATIONAL PPI FESTIVAL

Public & patient involvement: connecting communities

Introduction to Public and Patient Involvement (PPI) For Members of the Public

AN EVENT FOR: Members of the Public- Everyone welcome!

Public and Patient Involvement can be described as doing research 'with' or 'by' members of the public rather than 'to', 'about' or 'for' them.'

This is a taster event for members of the public who have never been involved in PPI before. Joining us on the day will be two research teams from University College Cork. They will explain their research and then ask audience members to work together to provide potential solutions to the issues they face.

Date / Time: Saturday 22nd October 11am-2pm*
*Lunch provided

Location: Room 4.05, Western Gateway Building, University College Cork.

North Region - Creative Ireland Project - St Brigid Traditions

Clár Éire Ildánach
Creative Ireland
Programme
2017-2022

Age Friendly Ireland in partnership with Creative Ireland, Age & Opportunity, Sligo Age Friendly, Donegal Age Friendly, Mayo Age Friendly, Cavan Age Friendly, Monaghan Age Friendly and Leitrim Age Friendly Programs kicked off their Creativity workshops exploring some of the traditions associated with St Brigid. The groups explored the history and stories into this special celtic women and discussed wither the new long weekend bank holiday should be recognised and celebrated as the female version of St Patricks day or should the St Brigid be recognised as just "Brigid" and even the name "Biddy" came up.

In the first workshop they designed their own St Brigid crosses using natural materials (Straw, Flowers and wool) each creating their own design and putting their own mark on the cross. The afternoons workshop had the group again explore Brigid but this time through creative writing and poetry, everybody wrote their own poem and read it individually to the wider group.

On Friday the 30th of October older people from all 6 Counties are invited to The National Museum of Ireland, Country Life in Turlough Park House, Gortnafolla, Castlebar, Co. Mayo to showcase their beautiful crafted crosses and share their poems with other groups, they will then get to offer their prayers or written wishes to St Brigid.
