Introduction

Public Bodies, known as Contracting Authorities, operating in Ireland are subject to national and EU rules on the award of contracts for supplies, works and services.

They are obliged to publicly tender all requirements on the Irish Government website www.etenders.gov.ie over certain thresholds, in addition to advertising in the Official Journal of the European Union (OJEU) for larger value contracts.

The etenders website is the national system operated in Ireland. It is a fully electronic confidential tool supporting the advertising and tender transactions for all Irish Public Bodies as well as those in receipt of public funding.

There are essentially 5 categories of procurement methods:

- Quotations – where the Contracting Authority has discretion over who to invite to submit a quotation.
- National Tenders – where the Contracting Authority must advertise its requirements on the Irish Government website www.etenders.gov.ie and comply with strict rules and protocols on tendering.
- EU Tenders – where the Contracting Authority must advertise its requirements in the European Journal in addition to www.etenders.gov.ie. The notice will also appear on the OJEU making it accessible to all EU Member States in addition to other countries signatory to various EU trade deals such as the European Economic Area and the Government Procurement Agreement of the World Trade Organisation. The official OJEU website is www.ted.europa.eu. The rules of EU tendering are defined by EU legislation, namely Directive 2014/24/EU as transposed into Irish law by Statutory Instrument 284 of 2016.

In addition to the 3 methods outlined above, Contracting Authorities may also

- Award contracts via mini-competitions under Framework Agreements established by Central Purchasing Bodies such as the Office of Government Procurement or collaborative groups of organisations such as a number of Local Authorities operating together.
- They may also use framework agreements set up by their own organisations.

In the case of mini-competitions, these are not publicly visible, however the establishing framework would have been advertised on www.etenders.gov.ie / OJEU.

The final method may involve the establishment of panels or Dynamic Purchasing Systems (DPS) – these are lists of qualified economic operators. They are constantly open for access for economic operators to apply. The establishment is subject to public advertising; however, the contracts being awarded under the Panels/DPSs are not.

The thresholds and obligations can be summarized as follows: (values are ex vat)

Mechanism	Supplies	Services	Works
Quotations	Less than €25,000 (excl. VAT)	Less than €25,000 (excl. VAT) for ICT & General Services Less than €50,000 (excl. VAT) for Work related Services	Less than €50,000 (excl. VAT)

*Title III Services as defined in the Directives include training and education, social and related services, catering and hotel services, security services, etc.

Concession Contracts are contracts based upon two fundamental aspects – remuneration and risk. The remuneration is paid for by those using the service / work and the risk (being a significant element of the risk involved) must be taken by the concessionaire. A typical service concession is a bank ATM machine or a coffee shop at a public building/facility. A typical works concession is a toll road.

This Guidance Document aims to explain the process involved for economic operators responding to quotations, tenders or mini-competitions via the www.etenders.gov.ie website.
